

Jason Hearn

Why are you leaving Jason Hearn
Is it because its now your turn
To take the slippery slope to the top
Or you need to get away before you pop
After eating so many cakes from the leftover lunch
It's the former – I have a hunch

Lets remember some of your quick "one liners"
You certainly are a good old timers!!
"lets have a little lookie lookie in my bookie bookie
A youth thing! - too much Star Wars and adoring the wookie wookie

We will look at your time within the team
People are not always as they seem
There are the girls in the corner – Catherine and Dee
Working hard to do the deals and get a fee
You always said "well done for doing your job!"
Still they did have to put up with your gob!
Blondie and her sidekick loved you the most
No doubt on your leaving they will have a little toast
Do you want a cup of tea they would both ask!
Does the pope sing – its not such a great task!

Things you love – your wife, your kids and having a good sing
"on it like a car bonnet" – that had a good ring!
We all watched when you had your pack-up
Would the three pieces of fruit a day – all stack up
Or would the wrap with the hidden love letter
Just simply help the day feel oh so better

Your time with us has never been dull
When you leave the office, we enjoy the lull
To say your loud would be rather tame
We hope in your next role you will live up to your name

The Carols at Xmas will go down in history
How you outsung Linda is a real mystery
Only beaten by Daniel's "Five Gold Rings"
You certainly did affect how everyone sings

So the time has come to wish you well
Will your new colleagues need ear plugs – only time will tell!
So its Ciao from us all in the Wilson Team
We all hope that in your next role you will be living your dream.

Linda Lane – April 2016
