

SPRING IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER

*Crocus and snowdrops peeking their heads through the left over shrubs
Daffodils flowering in the outside tubs
Blossom appearing on the old apple tree
Watching the flight of the odd striped bumble bee*

*Seeing the spring lambs gambolling in the sun
Wondering if Winter is really done
There is a real sense of buzz as the birds begin to call
Building their nests in the crack in the wall*

*Primrose and pansies brighten the borders
A morning gardening – just what the doctor orders
The Spring sunshine seems to make all things right
With warmer temperatures and nights that are light*

*Spring really is my favourite season of the year
It casts out any worries and pushes out the fear
It triggers the spark deep within our brain
Invigorating our being and keeping us all sane!*
